

Parenting Styles

Group 4

Parent styles that our group likes and want to be in the future

Authoritative
100%

Parenting Styles

Parenting style that our group likes the most:

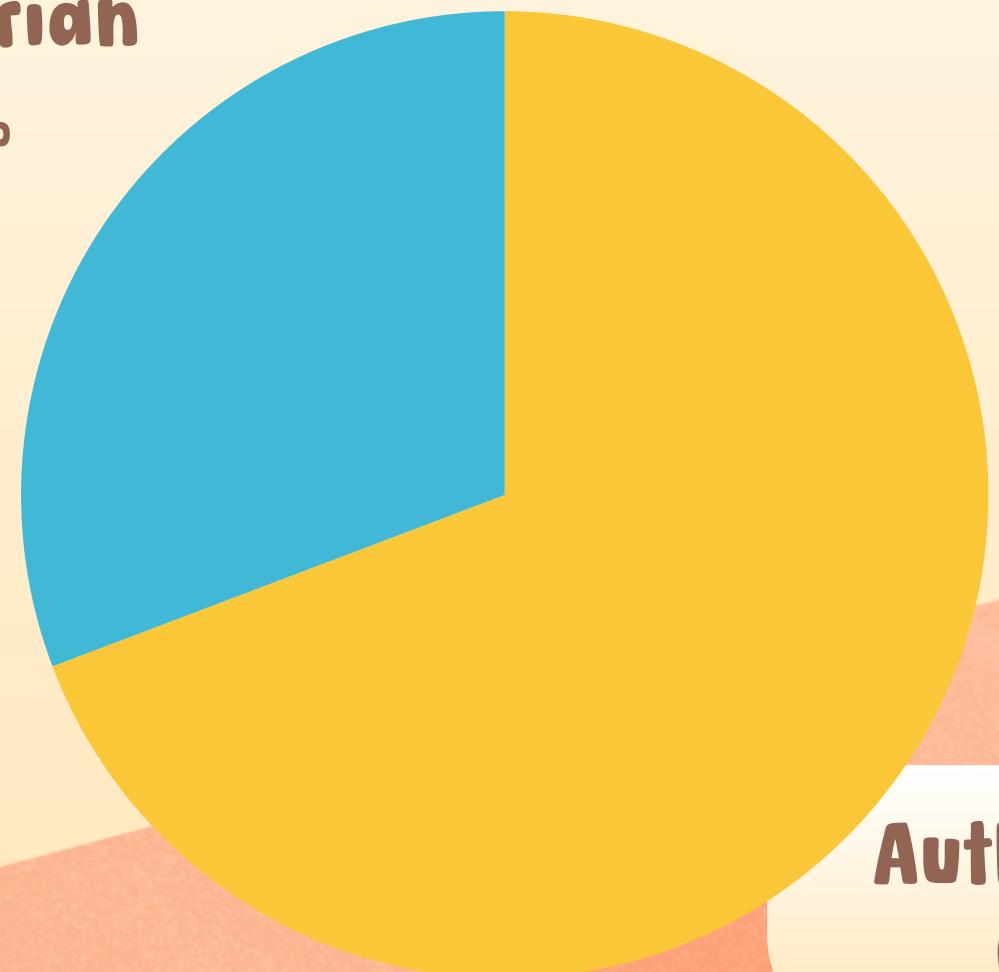

Authoritative Parenting Style

The reason why most members of our group would like to have this parenting style is because authoritative parents tend to be warm and attentive. And when raising a child, the child will grow up to have those characteristics in their parents.

Parent styles that in our group family

Authoritarian
30.8%

Authoritative
69.2%

Parenting Styles

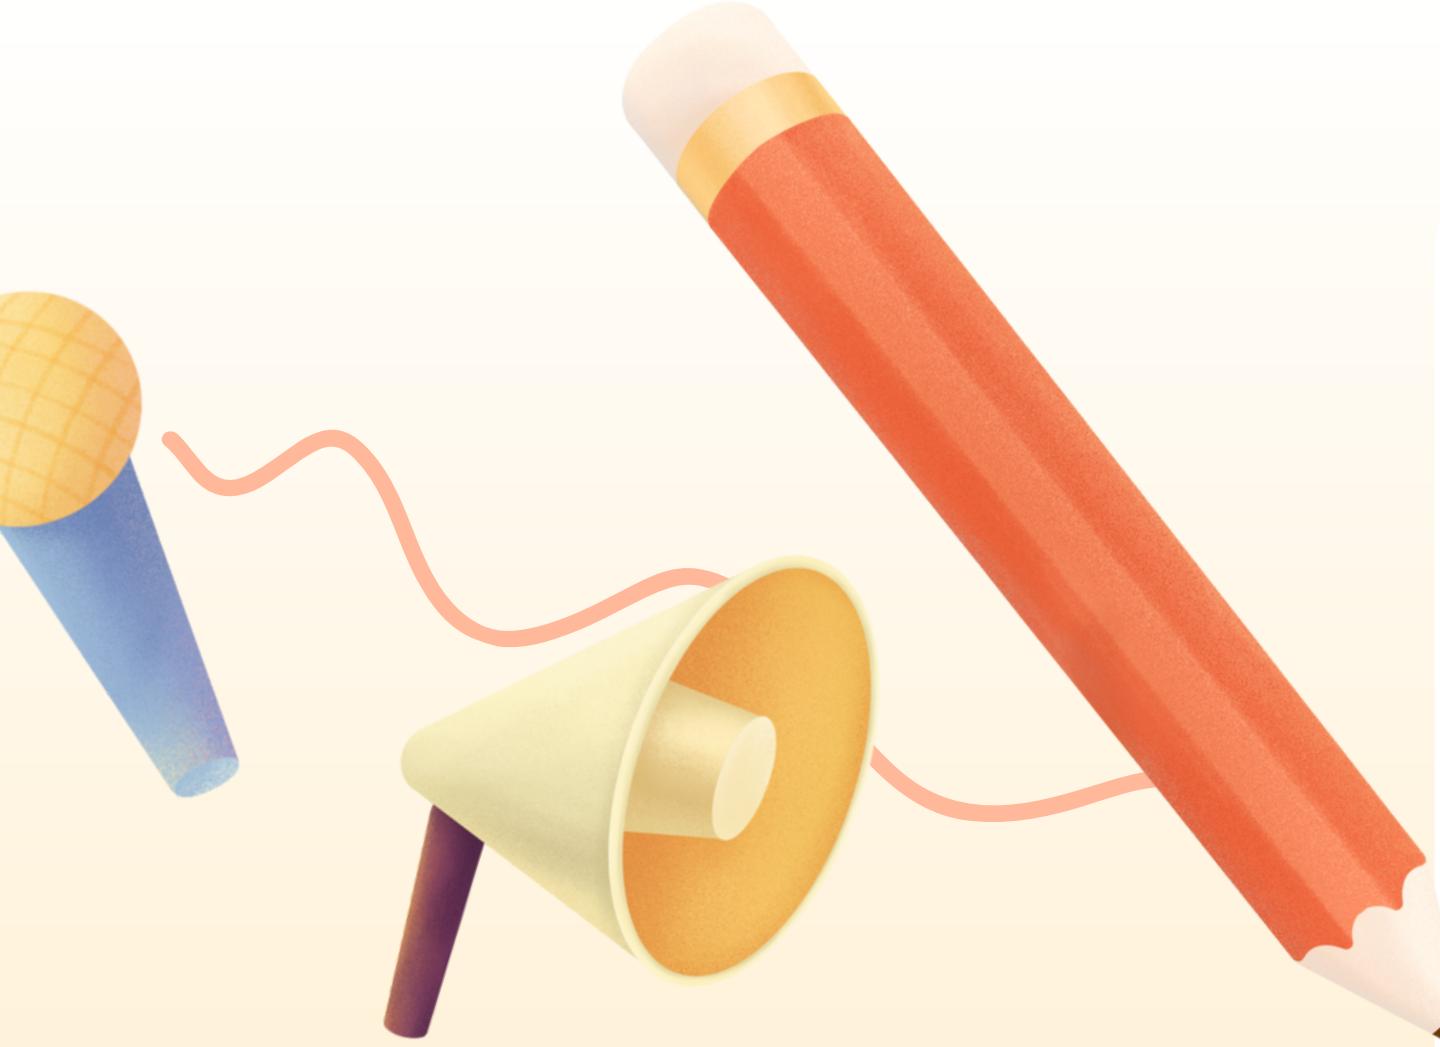

1 place: Authoritative Parenting Style

2nd. place: Authoritarian Parenting Style

Parenting styles that our group has the most:

The parenting style that our members in the group grew up with the most is Authoritative with a score of 9 members followed by Authoritarian parenting style with a score of 4 members.

Authoritarian vs Authoritative

Aspect	Authoritative	Authoritarian
Communication	Open and two-way communication is encouraged.	Communication is mostly one-way.
Flexibility	Adjustments in response to the child's needs.	Rules are rigid and non-negotiable.
Discipline Approach	Balanced approach with reasoning and consequences.	Strict rules and punishments are emphasized.
Outcome in Children	Children tend to be self-disciplined, socially responsible, and independent.	Children may become more obedient but might lack independence and decision-making skills.

Permissive Parents

Permissive parents are easygoing and don't really enforce rules for their kids. This can make the children act without thinking, ignore rules, be more aggressive, and have a higher chance of using drugs. Additionally, they face a higher risk of experiencing depression and anxiety.

Uninvolved

Uninvolved parents are not very connected or engaged with their kids. They don't show much warmth or respond to their emotional needs. These parents also don't pay much attention to supervising or disciplining their children.

Uninvolved parenting usually results in negative outcomes for kids, including emotional withdrawal, anxiety, and a higher likelihood of engaging in risky and harmful behaviors, including substance abuse.

Members

6510545268 Kantaphat Phaphui

6510545322 Chayakarn Hengsuwan

6510545365 Chalisa Kimsom

6510545411 Nicha Ruangrit

6510545420 Tantikon Phasanphangsi

6510545454 Thorung Boonkaew

6510545519 Napasorn Tevarut

6510545659 Phiranat Chaleekul

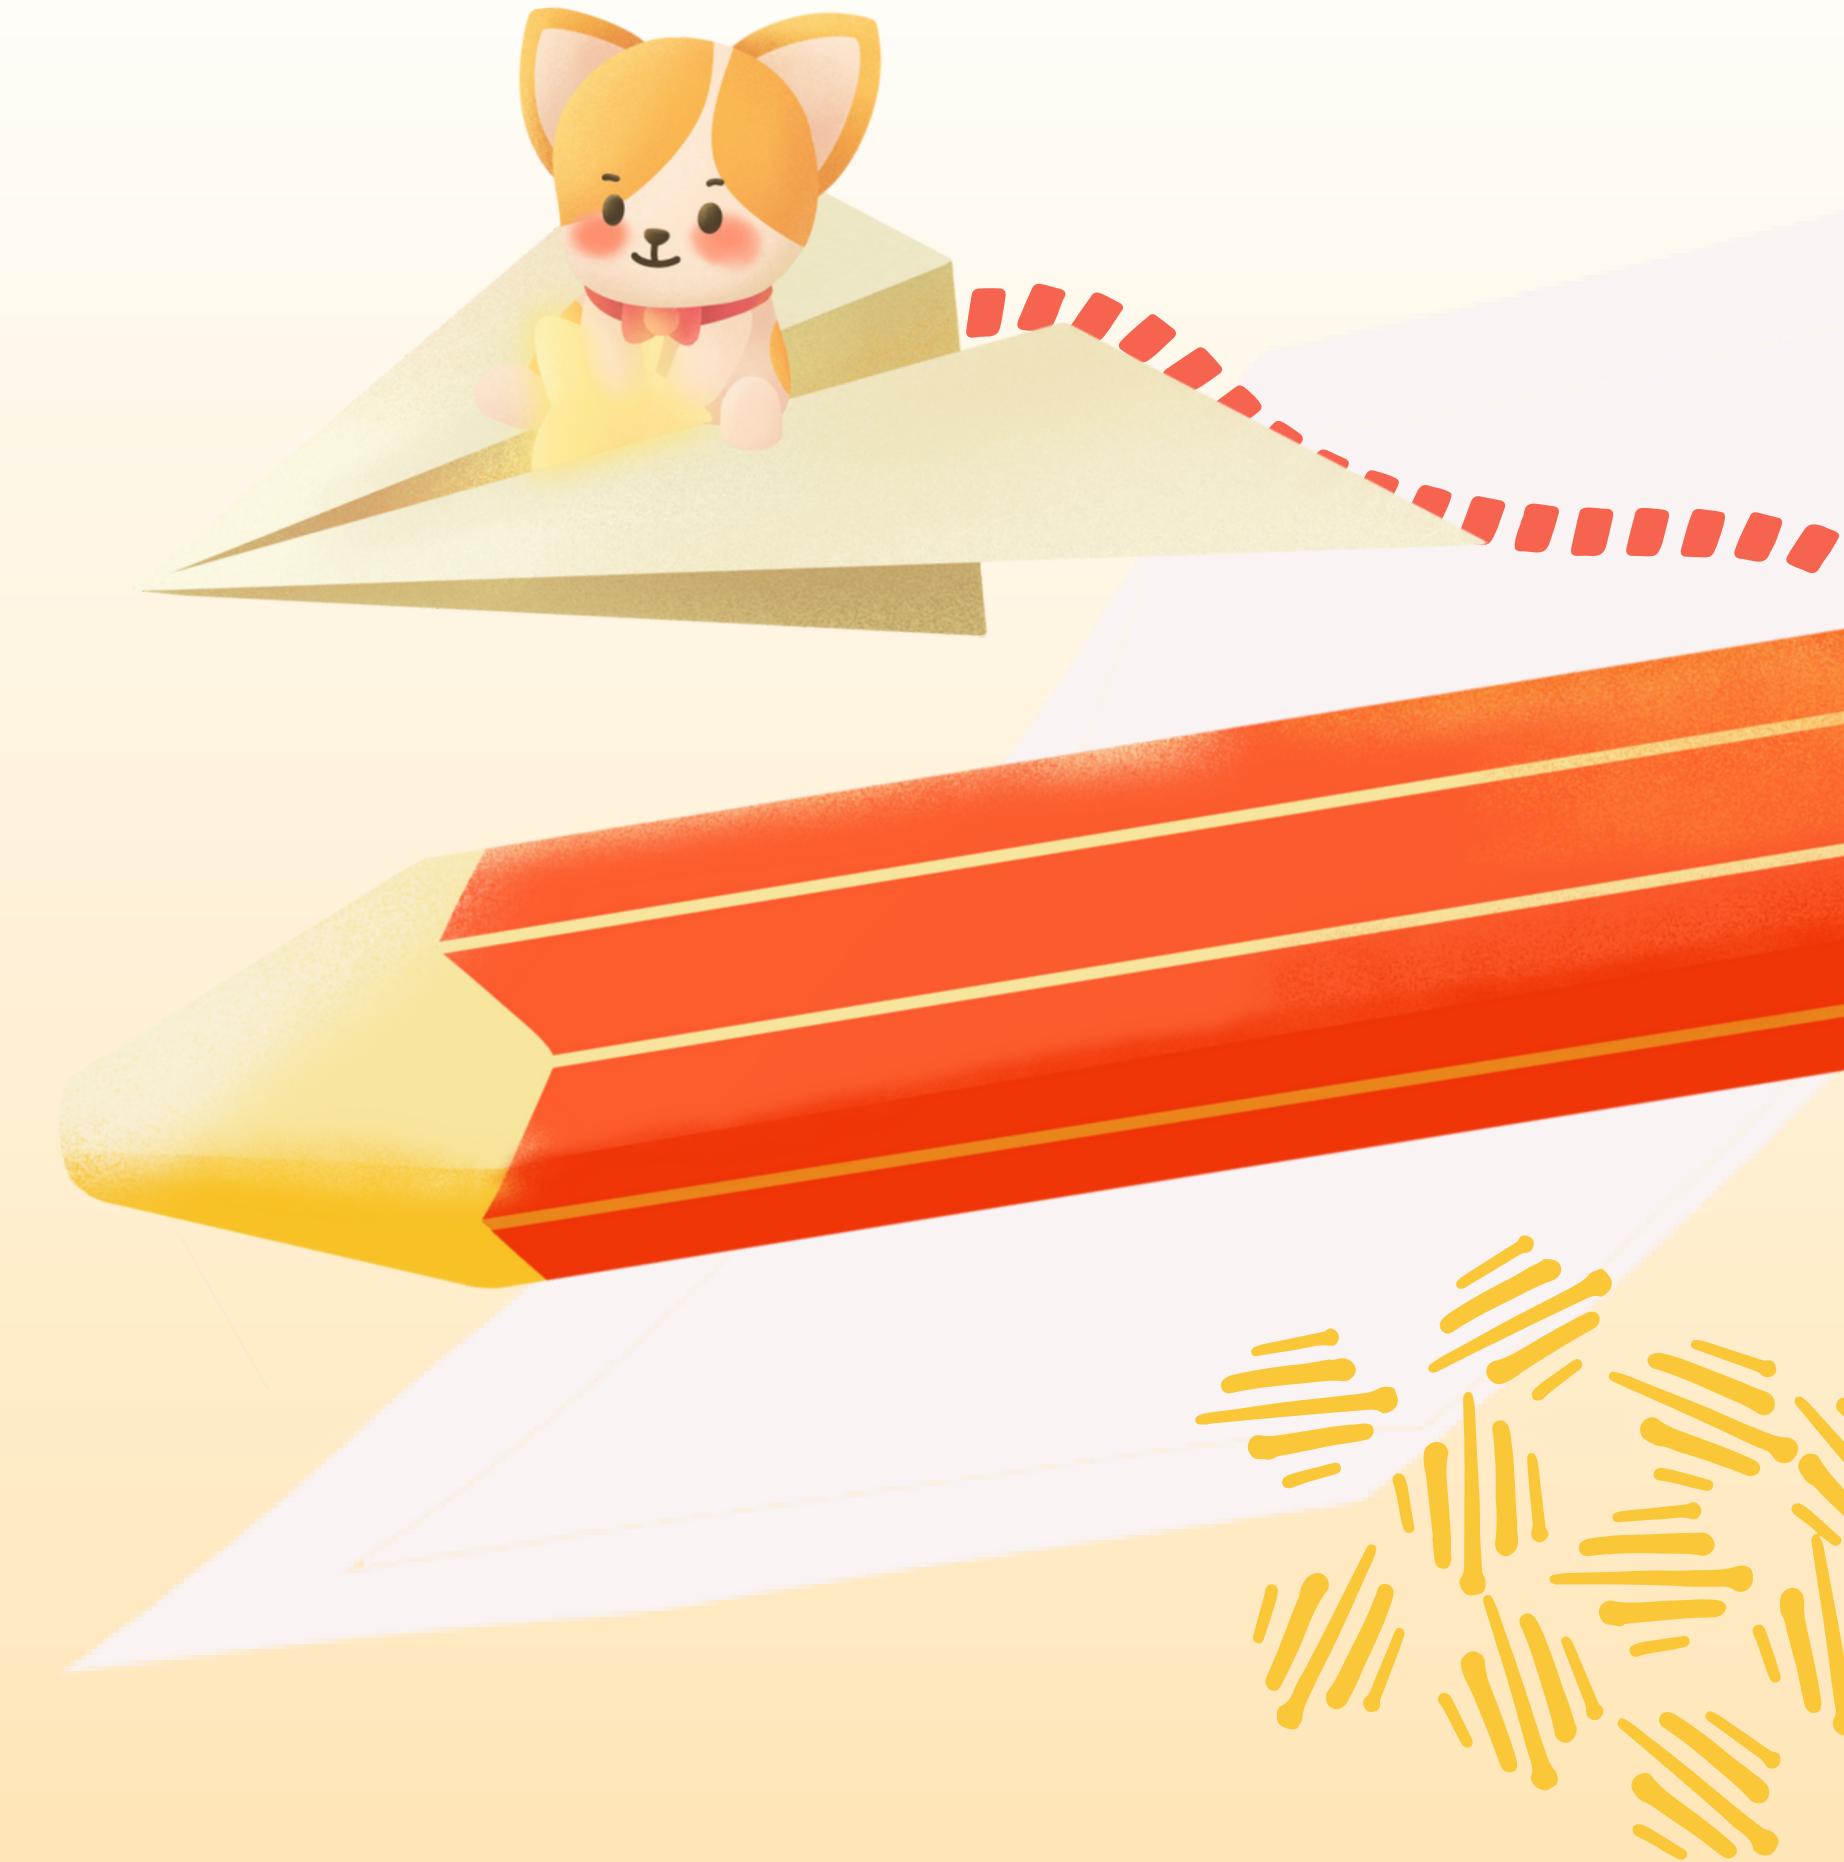

6510545675 Phavida Rattanamongkolkul

6510545713 Worawalan Chatlatanagulchai

6510545772 Achiraya Pongcharoen

6510545764 Setthapon Thadisakun

6510545799 Atikarn Kruaykriangkrai

thank you

